FLEXRACK by Qcells Return Material Authorization (RMA) Policy

RMA requests are to be submitted online using the form located at <https://www.flexrack.com/rmarequest/>

An email acknowledgement of the form submission will be returned with an RMA request number. PLEASE NOTE: The request number is not an authorization number to return the product. FLEXRACK by Qcells will review a properly submitted RMA request and, if approved, will provide authorization including instructions on how to return the unit(s).

The Owner named in the FLEXRACK by Qcells Warranty is the sole party responsible for RMA requests. The Owner may designate, in writing, a third-party representative to work with FLEXRACK by Qcells during this process, but the Owner remains responsible for all costs or other obligations associated with RMA material which is examined and deemed not to be covered under the FLEXRACK by Qcells Warranty or otherwise covered by FLEXRACK by Qcells' partners via pass-through third-party warranties.

RMA requests submitted on the Owner's behalf by a properly designated third party shall be noted in the RMA Request Form, and appropriate Owner contact information must be included. Owners that have acquired the RMA-applicable site(s) and assumed the obligations of an Owner under the FLEXRACK by Qcells Warranty through FLEXRACK by Qcells original customer(s) will need to complete a registration process with FLEXRACK by Qcells Accounting department prior to any RMAs being accepted if such Owner is not a previous customer of FLEXRACK by Qcells.

The unit(s) must be returned as instructed or risk delay and/or forfeiture of the RMA. The return of any unit(s) not on the issued RMA will NOT be evaluated. FLEXRACK by Qcells will attempt to return unauthorized materials to the sender or Owner, and the sender or Owner shall bear all costs of such return. FLEXRACK by Qcells is not responsible for the loss of any unit(s) or any other goods or materials that are received by FLEXRACK by Qcells and which were not authorized.

Return authorization expires 30 days from date of electronic issuance and any delay may result in resubmission of all forms beginning with the link above. Exceptions may be made at FLEXRACK by Qcells discretion. Please reach out to FLEXRACK by Qcells via SFRTracker@solarflexrack.com prior to expiration of the RMA for complications regarding meeting the deadline.

After evaluation of the unit(s) by FLEXRACK by Qcells and/or its vendors, unit(s) deemed to have a defect, and which will be covered by the FLEXRACK by Qcells Warranty will be repaired or replaced pursuant to the FLEXRACK by Qcells Warranty.

For unit(s) deemed not to have a defect pursuant to the FLEXRACK by Qcells Warranty, FLEXRACK by Qcells or its vendors will provide an explanation. If repair of the unit(s) not covered by the FLEXRACK by Qcells Warranty is/are feasible, FLEXRACK by Qcells may provide a quote for such repair and return of the unit(s). A Purchase Order (PO) must be issued or if acceptable to FLEXRACK by Qcells, a credit card payment may be made for repair to start and be carried out on such unit(s).

If FLEXRACK by Qcells or its partners deem it necessary to disassemble returned product for evaluation/root cause analysis, this may lead to irreparable damage to a unit(s). Neither FLEXRACK by Qcells nor its partners shall be liable for the loss of an irreparable unit(s) to the extent that no warrantable defect is found.

Neither FLEXRACK by Qcells nor its partners will assume the cost of returning unit(s) or any other goods or materials to be inspected. Unauthorized use of FLEXRACK by Qcells or any of its partners' shipping accounts may result in a penalty totaling the actual shipping cost plus an administrative fee billed to the Owner. All unit(s) in process at the time of such billing shall be held until the invoice is paid.

For unit(s) covered under the FLEXRACK by Qcells Warranty, FLEXRACK by Qcells will bear the costs to return the repaired or replaced unit(s) under the same conditions with which the unit(s) were originally supplied. Unit(s) not found to have a defect and therefore non-warrantable, shall have all costs of the inspection and return paid by the Owner.

Shipping/freight costs for RMAs will follow the below schedule:

Return of product to FLEXRACK by Qcells or vendor		Site Owner/Transferor
Return of repaired or replacement product to customer	Fault covered by warranty	FLEXRACK by Qcells
	Fault not covered by warranty	Site Owner/Original Transferor

The customer is encouraged to purchase extras/spares at their discretion. This can be done at any time in the process and will help eliminate downtime in production and extra mobilization to retrieve and replace unit(s) at the site(s). Any subsequent Owner may also purchase spares at their discretion at any time by issuing a Purchase Order to FLEXRACK by Qcells.
